Tasting Notes

Cantauri Joven 2021 displays a profile of the Rioja Alta Carbonic Maceration wines (made with whole grapes without de-stemming). its secret lies in the conducive microclimate of the 'Sierra de Cantabira' which allows the grapes to ripe naturally before being harvested.

This wine presents red and black fruits, a sense of freshness with maturity. It displays depth and great complexity for a young wine at this price. Bright aromas and a polished and elegant palate. Ripe grapes, but not overripe.

It is a great generic wine in terms of price and quality that has a good and long evolution in the bottle since it can be consumed in its second year.
